As a pioneer in the entertainment projector industry, Yaber continuously produces excellent entertainment projectors, creates and leads a better lifestyle, and brings the chance of getting closer to people around. When you hear the term "laser" projection you might think of that scene from Star Wars where the giant Death Star shoots lasers to blow up unruly planets. Fortunately, that level of high-powered laser technology isn't widely available yet. But as it turns out, lasers are a great alternative to traditional lamps in a projector. There are plenty of tips and tricks around how to get the best out of your projector, most of which have related to the maintenance of the lamp. To help extend lamp life of the projector, there were some simple, but slightly annoying rules to follow, like "Be sure to cool your projector down before packing it up!" or "Keep your projector in a cool location to reduce lamp temperature!" This new laser technology makes all those old tips crazy AV old-time talk. To help you help the best laser projector to serve all of your home entertainment needs, we spent multiple hours researching over 20 different projectors. Our research was looking focused on features like brightness, resolution, and user-friendliness. However, we also gave points to projectors for additional features like portability, onboard audio, and smart functionality. Why Laser? Especially among discerning entertainment fans, well, the reasons for this trend are pretty simple and we can't blame them in the least. The first reason is that the laser projector is the only projector that doesn't have a lamp. The second reason is that the laser projector is the only projector that doesn't have a lamp.
