Done! The animated background is a cross between a screensaver and a desktop background. As a normal background, an animated background serves as a background on the desktop, which is visible only when your work space is empty, I.E. No Windows program blocks from view. The only difference with the desktop background is that an animated background, as the name suggests, is animated, very similar to an animated screensaver but, unlike screensavers, keeping the user interface of the operating system at any time. Considering that Á ¢ ¢ ~ Á "regular" Wallpaper is a static image, an animated background can characterize animated elements. Because of its lively nature, the animated wallpaper is sometimes also defined as a live background. Systems Supported: Windows 10, Windows 8.1, Windows 8, Windows 7 If you want to share this background on other websites / forums, use the following: The direct connection Back to top The browser does not support the video tag. Download live video backgrounds ( sometimes indicated as live backgrounds or dynamic backgrounds) refer to backgrounds that present a mobile image or a 2D / 3D scene as a background of the operating system instead of a static image, it could also refer to the steel playlist wallpapers, often with certain transition effects. Some operating systems, such as the Android operating, provide native support for animated backgrounds.
